Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 05 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A bright but chilly start today. Gradually clouding over.

Today:
Friday will start quite sunny, but with a grass frost in places. Cloud will slowly increase from the northwest during the morning and although it will stay mainly dry during the afternoon, any lingering sunshine will be at a premium. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
A mainly dry and fairly cloudy evening, although with a few clear intervals. Overnight the cloud could thicken enough to give the odd spot of drizzle. Frost-free, but breezy. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Saturday:
Saturday starts cloudy with patchy drizzle. Skies brightening up through the morning, then cloud thickening from the northwest during the afternoon with some rain arriving later. Milder, but rather windy. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Mostly dry and bright, but still windy on Sunday. Remaining bright, and with lighter winds on Monday. Cloudier on Tuesday with patchy drizzle and more of a breeze again.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.